It's a slow process, usually—education, development and growth. But it hasn't been so with Pearline. Pearline's success has been a wonder, from the start. All the more so when you consider the many poor imitations of it, which claim to make washing easy. These things tend to confuse people, of course. They're forced on the public by peddlers, prizes, substitution, etc. No doubt they're often thought to be the same as Pearline. We protest. Don't judge Pearline by the company it has to keep.

WANT IT ALL.

Syndicate Expects to Secure Entire Bond Issue.

Mr. Morgan Expected the "Popular Call" And Is Prepared for It.

Will Make Such Offer for all the Bonds to Outclass all Other Bids.

New York, Jan. 9. From a subscribing member of the J. P. Morgan bond syndicate, the following facts are obtained: The syndicate expects to secure the entire $100,000,000 4 per cent. bonds to be sold by the treasury Feb. 5.

Mr. Morgan is not at all annoyed at the so-called "popular call." He knows all about it and has his arrangements accordingly. The syndicate will bid for the entire issue. It will take all or none. The reason for Mr. Morgan's confidence in the entire success of the bond sale is an offer so advantageous that no other bidder could stand in its way.

The price to be paid for the bonds is $100,000,000, the principal and premium in gold and in addition (forgiveness in amount) in gold equal to a third of the issue, or $33,333,333.33, in exchange for greenbacks. The government gold reserve will thus not only be brought up to the required limit, but will have a large surplus.

The price the syndicate will offer is not exactly known by any one besides Mr. Morgan. It will be considerably more than the 104 1/2 paid last February. This low premium was paid because of the provision in the contract compelling the syndicate to protect the treasury reserve. No such contract will be made this time.

Therefore a higher price will be paid. The figure is believed to be 108. The syndicate is now accumulating gold from every source, and the principal and premium will be paid in gold. The syndicate will be able to make individual bids besides the syndicate bid. This is the state of affairs today.

[This position will probably hold until Feb. 5 without change of importance in details. The President and Secretary of the Treasury have no agreement in public, with the syndicate. They know what Mr. Morgan's intentions are and know it when the public call is issued.]

Mr. Carlisle Predicts Success.

Washington, Jan. 9. Secretary Carlisle expressed the opinion today that the new bond issue will be a success. He did not intimate where the gold would come from but he spoke with full knowledge of the situation and the gold and silver market.

The syndicate brought in gold to a number of inquiries for blank forms to which to make bids, in some cases persons being desirous of subscribing the stated amount to the syndicate and the price they would offer. These figures of course were withheld from publication.

The bids are expected to be in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, and when possible those making them will be communicated with and blank forms be sent to them to complete the subscription.

The Subject of Resolution Introduced in the Senate Thursday.

Financial Talk and Other Matters in Both Houses of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. In the Senate today Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.) introduced a resolution relating to the Judiciary Committee, withdrawing from the Supreme Court of the United States jurisdiction of criminal cases, not capital and transferring it to the United States courts of appeal.

In presenting some petitions favoring the proposed change, Senator McMillan (Dem., Va.) expressed the opinion that the public apprehensions of the transfer of criminal cases to the United States courts were overestimated, but he also expressed the hope that the committee would prepare itself for what he regarded as a just and proper resolution.

Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.) offered a resolution, agreed to instructing the committee on immigration to inquire whether legislation is necessary to prevent the introduction into the United States of aliens who are known to be members of the Ku Klux Klan or other organizations of a similar character.

Mr. Baker (Rep., Kans.) introduced the following joint resolution and advised the Senate in support of it:

"Resolved, That the United States of America will regard it an unwarranted and unjustifiable interference with the right of self-determination of any people to attempt to acquire territory by force."

ROOM FOR DOUBT.

That Free Silverites Can Pass Silver Bill in Senate.

Majority in Favor of Free Coinage Small And May be Wiped Out.

A Careful Canvas Gives Ray of Hope for Defeat of Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. A very careful canvass of the Senate on the free coinage bill, introduced by Senator Stanford (Calif.), was made today by a committee of the Senate which was organized for the purpose of ascertaining the strength of the bill.

Some so-called "sound money" men go so far as to say that it may possibly be defeated.

A conference was held yesterday by Mr. Stanford and Mr. Gray representing the anti-free coinage side of the bill, and Mr. Aldrich on the Republican side.

These three men went over the situation in a thorough manner and came to the conclusion that there was good reason to believe that the bill would not pass.

It is given to mention that there are 20 or 25 Republican members of the Senate who are in favor of the bill, and that there are 20 or 25 Democratic members who are in favor of the bill.

The figures given are, however, very approximate, and it is not possible to say with certainty whether the bill will pass or not.

Three Senators think, however, that the bill will not pass, and that the majority in favor of the bill will be wiped out.
